

Full Self Emergence Program

A residential work-study program at the Glen Ivy Center

The Glen Ivy Center is a place for seminars, conferences and retreats, cradled in the foothills of the Santa Ana Mountains. Since 1977, Glen Ivy has stewarded the land and water as an organic farm. It is also the regional headquarters of Emissaries of Divine Light.

The Glen Ivy Center is currently offering a Work-Study Program for people who are interested in:

- Spiritual community
- Personal transformation
- Learning and using powerful spiritual principles in their lives
- Work as love made visible
- Being a teacher for spiritual awakening and transformation

Work-Study Program participants have the opportunity to be visiting members of the Glen Ivy Center community, and to engage in the activities here. They find themselves surrounded by a community of love that supports vital spiritual change.

The program includes:
